

Sen. Barkley's Name Appears In War Profits Hearing Today

By John W. HENDERSON
Washington, July 17 (AP)—An attractive, red-haired former secretary of a midwest munitions combine testified today that Rep. May (D-Ky.) called his Washington office "two or three times" a week and that the office of Senate Democratic Leader Barkley (D-Ky.) had telephoned on "several occasions."

This testimony marked the first time that Barkley's name has entered public hearings of the Senate war investigating committee inquiring into the wartime operations of the munitions group. The witness was Mrs. Jean Bates, secretary at the groups' Washington office from April 1945 until June of 1946.

She told the committee, in response to questions, that several high ranking army officers also had telephoned the office, among them two identified in her testimony only as General Waite and General Porter.

"Whitewash" Charge
She told the committee that among her superiors were Joseph Freeman, Louis Sareles, and Murray Garsson. She testified that they had phoned May's office "several times a week."

May is chairman of the House military committee.

Before Mrs. Bates took the stand, Albert Jacobson, a war department consultant, protested to the committee that he had been humiliated and maligned in the course of the committee hearings.

Previous testimony had shown that he passed on millions of dollars of advances to munitions firms currently under investigation by the committee. Other evidence has been offered to show he helped prepare a report which members asserted verged on a "whitewash" of the wartime munitions business of the companies.

To Decide About May
Jacobson said he was "unashamed" of anything he had done as a lawyer. He said he quit the bar after being told of an investigation by the bar association.

Counsel George Meader said the committee may decide within a matter of hours what to do about getting Rep. May (D-Ky.) as a witness.

An executive session on that point will follow completion of presently scheduled testimony Meader said. This could be today.

The name of May, chairman of the house military committee, has often entered the current investigation of (Please Turn to Page 2)

MIHAILOVIC, EIGHT OTHERS ARE EXECUTED

Belgrade, July 17 (AP)—Gen. Draja Mihailovic, once acclaimed by the allied world as the organizer of the Yugoslav resistance movement, died before a firing squad at dawn today—less than 40 hours after his conviction on charges of treason and collaboration with the Germans.

Eight other men who were convicted with the former Chetnik leader were executed at the same time.

The others executed were: Radoslaw-Rade Radic, 56, former Chetnik unit commander.

Milos Glicsh, 36, Chetnik leader.

Oskar Pavlovic, 54, former Zegreb chief of police.

Dragi Yovanovic, 44, former chief of police of Belgrade.

Yanasje-Tasa Dinic, 55, former minister of the interior in the Puppet government of the late Premier Milan Nedice, who committed suicide last January by leaping from his jail cell.

Velibor Yonic, 54, Nedice's minister of education.

Djuro Dokis, 72, former minister of commerce.

Kosta Musicki, 49, former aide-de-camp to King Peter.

Convicted Monday

Mihailovic and 23 co-defendants were convicted last Monday by a Yugoslav military court. He and 10 others were sentenced to death, and the remaining 13 to prison terms ranging from 20 to 18 months.

Two of those sentenced to death and eight of those sentenced to prison were convicted in absentia.

The presidium of the Yugoslav parliament yesterday rejected appeals for mercy.

The trial of the Serbian-born Chetnik leader and his fellow defendants began June 10, and was marked by partial "confessions" on the part of some of the principals. Mihailovic, however, maintained that he was innocent of collaboration and that he had fought to drive the Nazis from Yugoslavia.

The Yugoslav government refused throughout the proceedings to allow U. S. fliers, who had been forced down in Yugoslavia, to testify that they owed their lives to Mihailovic and his Chetniks.

Charges against Mihailovic included an allegation that his Chetniks attacked Partisan forces led by Marshal Tito, now premier of Yugoslavia.

NATIONAL PARK WILL RESUME PROGRAMS HERE

On Sunday evening the Gettysburg National Park staff will resume its Sunday evening series of Campfire programs held last in the summer of 1944. The programs were omitted last summer.

The park office announced today that the first in the series of six campfire programs will be held this Sunday evening and will continue on subsequent Sunday evenings until and including August 25.

The hour for the first program will be 8:45 p. m., and it will be held on the crest of East Cemetery hill, close to the equestrian statue of General O. O. Howard. The site is most accessible from Baltimore street, it was pointed out. Previously the Campfire programs were held on the east slope of Cemetery hill, along Wainwright avenue.

The Yellowstone National Park will be the topic for the first program. Those to follow on other Sunday evenings are: Mt. McKinley National Park in Alaska; the National Monuments of Arizona and New Mexico; the Olympic National Park; Blossom Time in the Desert, and the Carlsbad Caverns National Park.

Each of the programs will consist of the showing of reels of sound motion pictures in natural colors.

A. H. NEWMAN DIES SUDDENLY

Addison H. Newman, 69, Mt. Joy Township, Littlestown, R. D. 2, died Tuesday at 11:45 o'clock. Though he had been ailing for several years, his death was unexpected. He was a son of the late David and Julia (Wintrose) Newman.

He is survived by his wife, the former Anna Bell Hartman; four children, Mrs. Earl Carey, Biglerville; Mrs. Lawrence Sanders, Gettysburg; Orville H. Newman, Littlestown, R. D. 2; and Fred B. Newman, Gettysburg; six grand-children; and two brothers, Dr. E. A. Newman, Baltimore, and Dennis O. Newman, Littlestown, R. D. 2.

He was a life-long member of Grace Lutheran church, Two Taverns, and a member of the Mt. Joy community fire company.

Funeral services Friday at 1:30 p. m. (D.S.T.) from the Little Funeral home, Littlestown. Rev. Dr. J. M. Myers, the deceased's pastor, will officiate. Burial in Mt. Carmel cemetery, Littlestown. Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday evening, 7 to 9 p. m.

Held For Attack With Wine Jug

Charles Arthur Pettigill, Montoursville, Pa., was held for court by Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore Tuesday night on a charge of aggravated assault and battery and later released in $500 bail.

The defendant was arrested by borough police Saturday night on complaint of Berman Beamer, Middle street, who charged that Pettigill struck him on the head with a glass wine jug on North Washington street.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Miss Grace Robinson, Franklin street; Mrs. Naomi Carey, Biglerville, and Mrs. Richard Kammerer, Gettysburg R. 4, have been admitted as patients at the Warner hospital. Those discharged include Nancy Jacobs, Littlestown; Kay Robert, Cashtown; Lee Myers, Littlestown R. 2; Marie Cline, Biglerville R. 1; Mary Ann Klingman, Littlestown; Martha Fissel, Biglerville R. 2; Samuel Solenberger, Gettysburg R. 2; Robert Plank, Biglerville R. 2; Paul Knox, 11 Steinwehr avenue; Mrs. G. Noel Flynn and infant son, Michael Joseph, Buford avenue; Harold Kump, Orrtanna R. 1; Mrs. Edward Trimmer, Gettysburg R. 2, and Terry Louis Pottorff, Littlestown.

AIR MACHINE DAMAGED

A free air machine at the Adams County Motors corporation, York and Liberty streets, was knocked down some time between 2 and 5 a. m. today, according to a report made to borough police by Glenn Guise, manager. The damage was estimated at $150. Police are investigating.

MEN OF TRINITY

The Men of Trinity will meet this evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Donald E. Myers, Baltimore street, for their monthly meeting to be held out of doors. In case of rain the meeting will be held in the Myers home. All members are urged to attend.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kammerer, Gettysburg R. 4, announce the birth of a daughter Tuesday at the Warner hospital.

Commissioners May Move Voting Places

The Adams county commissioners today visited several locations in the county with a view to re-locating voting places for the fall election.

At least three polling places are expected to be changed, among them the Cumberland township voting place formerly located on land recently annexed by the borough of Gettysburg.

The commissioners are also looking for a new voting place in New Oxford. The present location is on the second floor of the engine house, and commissioners said older residents object to climbing the stairs.

Another polling place now located in a schoolhouse, may also be moved, it was said.

9 ENLISTMENTS PENDING FROM LOCAL OFFICE

The Gettysburg army recruiting station at the court house here, in charge of Sgt. Walter Stubbs, is tied this week with the Hanover recruiting office, and is second only to the York station in number of enlistments in the district, Sgt. Stubbs said.

Nine enlistments, Sgt. Stubbs said, are pending in Harrisburg, from which he has received no word. Four Adams county men have been accepted by the army, he learned today. Two of them are re-enlistments.

Claire S. Weaver, 25, husband of Mrs. Helen H. Weaver, 243 North Washington street, has re-enlisted as a staff sergeant in the finance corps, Sgt. Stubbs said. He served five years and six months in the army, several months of this time overseas. His enlistment is for three years.

Caravan Coming

Daniel E. Hoffman, 22, of Gettysburg R. 1, a veteran of two years and 11 months of service, with a year and two months overseas, has re-enlisted in the transportation corps.

Jay T. Woodward, 18, 696 South Washington street, whose mother is Mrs. Hattie Woodward of that address has enlisted for two years, army unassigned, and Raymond E. Storms, 18, Gettysburg R. 5, has enlisted for two years unassigned. He joined up July 8 on his 18th birthday. His father is Carroll Storms.

An army recruiting caravan which will be in Gettysburg Thursday and Friday is due here tomorrow morning, Sgt. Stubbs said. It will be located on the southwest side of Center Square, and will show bomb sights and other air force equipment, and a motion picture.

BULLETINS

Frankfurt, Germany, July 17 (AP)—Russian authorities have told the United States Army that two United States officers, who supposedly disappeared into the Russian zone of Berlin recently cannot be located. It was announced here officially today.

Washington, July 17 (AP)—The White House made public today a declaration from the Reconversion Advisory Board that abandonment of Price Control will leave the nation unprotected "against a dangerous rise in prices in the interval before normal economic forces are working."

Washington, July 17 (AP)—Plans for a permanent regular army of 1,000,000 men and officers confronted Congress today after a closed-door session of the Senate Military committee. The prewar 1939 strength was 188,000.

Bad Nauheim, July 17 (AP)—Col. Hardin Sweeney of Omaha, Neb., voluntarily withdrew today as a member of the military court trying Col. James A. Kilian after he was accused for the third time by the prosecution of bias in favor of Kilian, who is charged with cruelty to Liebfeld, England, guardhouse prisoners.

Congress May Take Recess; Not Sine Die

Washington, July 17 (AP)—Congress is planning to go home soon, but it probably won't lock up shop for the year.

The program now being discussed, key legislators said today, is to try to quit July 27, or soon thereafter.

But instead of adjourning sine die (finally), they plan to take an indefinite recess so that they can reconvene without the need of a Presidential proclamation if any major problem should develop before the new Congress meets in January.

House Republican Leader Joseph Martin of Massachusetts said his party probably will accept whatever plan best suits the House leadership.

REV. SMITH IS LITTLESTOWN CLUB SPEAKER

Rev. Nevin Smith, Hanover, was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Littlestown Rotary club Tuesday evening. Visitors were present from Hanover and Dallastown. Group singing was in charge of George P. Smith, assistant song leader.

President Harrison P. Snyder appointed Clair Worley as manager of the club's softball team. The Rotarians will meet the Crouse garage team in a league game this evening at the playground.

The meeting was in charge of the Fellowship committee, composed of Preston Myers, Clair Worley, Charles W. Weikert and Nevaeh Crouse.

Next week's meeting will be held with the Boy Scouts at Natural dam, where the boys will be camping. The program committee, consisting of Thomas C. McSherry, George P. Smith, Cloy I. Crouse, Arthur E. Bair, and Roy D. Knouse, will be in charge.

Briefs and Personals

Rev. Robert H. Sheehan, pastor of Centenary Methodist church, has announced choir rehearsal for Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, and the monthly business meeting of the official board of the church the same evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Miss Marion Bankert, Prince street, resumed her work yesterday at the Hanover General hospital after spending a week at Atlantic City.

Mrs. Ralph Wahler spent the week-end at the home of Newton Orndorff and family, near Hanover.

HOTEL BLAZE

Mount Vernon, O., July 17 (AP)—An early morning fire routed 20 guests from the Curtis hotel in the center of this city's business district today, and first reports said all escaped without serious injury. Six guests suffered burns and cuts fleeing the 75-year-old five-story structure, but hospital attaches said none was believed critically hurt.

DRIVER CHARGED

A ten-day notice has been mailed by Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore to William L. Rider, 64 Steinwehr avenue, charging him with driving on the wrong side of the road on East Middle street July 11. State police laid the charge.

May Ask Barbers To Dish Out Dope On Atomic Energy

Washington, July 17 (AP)—Don't be surprised if your barber starts giving you a little of the low-down on atomic energy next time you lean back in the chair.

This is no joke, son—

The possibility of having barbers spread certain basic information about the atomic bomb and atomic power among their customers in the course of barber-shop conversation was outlined yesterday at the "Institute on World Control of Atomic Energy."

Mrs. Lillian Watford of Pittsburgh, secretary of the tri-state atomic information committee, told delegates that the leader of a Pennsylvania barber's union had assured the committee "he'd enlist the aid of 10,000 barbers" in a campaign to get some of the facts of atomic life across to the public.

Saying she thought it was a good idea to be followed throughout the country, Mrs. Watford told a reporter:

Arrested After Camp Poker Game

A surety of the peace charge growing out of the aftermath of a poker game at Camp Sharpe Tuesday night among Bahamian farm laborers who arrived at the camp Monday, was arrested before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, this morning, with the result that the charge was withdrawn and Alfred Clark, Nassau, Bahamas, released after payment of the costs.

State police arrested Clark Tuesday night on complaint of William Devaux, also of Nassau, who charged that Clark, after losing money in the poker game, threatened his life. Devaux said he was sleeping and had not participated in the game.

According to the testimony, Devaux notified camp authorities of Clark's threats, and the authorities offered to move Devaux to another barracks at the camp. Devaux refused, and later left the camp and reported the circumstances to state police at the sub-station here. The arrest followed.

Disciplinary action was promised by the camp authorities, who claimed jurisdiction over the Bahamians.

Eric Duckstad Now A Lieutenant Colonel

Major Eric E. Duckstad, 28, son of Mrs. Kenderton S. Lynch, Breidenbaugh apartments, has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel, his mother has learned. The officer will retire August 6 from the U. S. Army due to a knee injury which he received during tank operations in the Louisiana maneuvers in 1941 when he was serving as an umpire with the First Army.

Colonel Duckstad, his wife and their young son reside at Palo Alto. He expects to take a postgraduate course in business administration at Stanford university after his army retirement. For the last year he has been assistant professor of military science and tactics at Stanford.

Will Demonstrate Blasting Of Ditches

A ditch blasting demonstration will be held Friday, at the Harry Meeky farm, near the Abbottstown-Hanover road. Those interested can inquire at the John Leubaugh farm as to where the demonstration will be held.

The major blast will take place about 2:30 p. m. Dynamite should not be used for making a ditch to lay tile as this destroys the percolation of water through the soil, the county farm agent said. Open ditches can be used to permit drainage of surface water. Dynamite may be used to deepen existing open ditches or to straighten the course of a flowing stream.

Drivers Charged By State Police

A charge of reckless driving has been placed before Justice of the Peace Gerald Orndorff, New Oxford, by state police, against Arthur Topper, New Oxford R. 1.

Samuel Levin, Philadelphia, was charged by state police before Justice Ellis Stine, Liberty township, with failure to keep to the right side of the highway. Ten-day notices were sent in each case.

Weather Forecast

Clearer and cool tonight. Thursday partly cloudy and somewhat warmer.

Local Couple Marks 56th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John E. McDonnell, 140 West Middle street, celebrated their fifty-sixth wedding anniversary today at the home of their second son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll R. McDonnell, Drexel Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonnell were accompanied by Drexel Hill Tuesday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Luther E. McDonnell, also of West Middle street. They also were on hand for the anniversary dinner today. They were joined at Drexel Hill by Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry McDonnell, Dover, Del. J. Henry McDonnell is combining the anniversary celebration with attendance at the International Lions convention in Philadelphia.

A sea bass weighing nine pounds, 14 ounces, caught by Carroll McDonnell, was served at the anniversary dinner.

PLAN LIVING MEMORIAL AT EAST BERLIN

Further plans for the erection and financing of East Berlin's living memorial, the proposed community building dedicated to veterans of World Wars I and II from the East Berlin school district, were discussed at a mass meeting in the East Berlin high school auditorium Tuesday evening with Elmer M. Gruver, high school principal, in charge.

Veterans and their families, members of the Lions club of East Berlin, who first proposed the memorial building, faculty, alumni and directors of the high school and other residents of the district were represented at the meeting.

The following officers of the living memorial fund were elected: President, Elmer M. Gruver; vice president, Dr. Burnell H. Grim; secretary, Miss Betty Tierney; treasurer, George William Moul.

Name Solicitors
Solicitors were chosen. They are Doctor Grimm, and Raymond Jacobs, Reading township; Mearl H. B. Heikes, Latimore; John Luca-baugh, Berwick; and Nevin Mum-mert, Paradise township.

It was suggested that solicitors for the fund be chosen from the Lions club, high school faculty and the school board. Another suggestion was for the publication in local newspapers of the names of persons contributing any amount from $1 upward.

It was proposed that any solicitor may have the right to the aid of others as he sees fit in making solicitations. Each person attending the meeting was presented with a scale drawn plan of the proposed memorial building.

Following the mass meeting there was a brief meeting of fund officers.

PICK 75 SHIPS AS BOMB TARGET

Aboard the U.S.S. Mount McKinley, July 17 (AP)—Seventy-five ships were selected today to brave the fearsome pressures of the underwater atomic bomb blast, and most of them already are in Bikini atoll.

This is more than the number of ships in the July 1 target array. In addition, a dozen small landing craft will be spaced in the lagoon when the bomb goes off July 25 (July 24, U. S. time).

The decision to increase the number of target ships by one destroyer and a tank landing ship was made by the joint chiefs of staff and announced by Vice Adm. William H. P. Blandy, task force commander.

There will be 29 fighting ships in the lagoon—five battleships, two carriers, three cruisers, 11 destroyers and eight submarines.

Other major target ships will be 17 transports, 28 landing ships and one large landing craft. Spares have been brought in to make up for the five ships sunk by the July 1 bomb.

Blandy announced that the time for setting off the bomb had been moved up 15 minutes to 8:35 a. m. (4:35 p. m., July 24, Eastern Standard Time) but might be held off as late as noon because of weather.

Rear Adm. W. S. Parsons, deputy task force commander for technical direction, told a news conference the elaborate trigger for the bomb would be cocked at the last minute by a nine-man team.

JUDGE AWARDS $9,500 DAMAGES IN CRASH SUIT

A compromise settlement, awarding Mr. and Mrs. Merle K. Bietsch and their 17-year-old son, Merle K. Bietsch, Jr., all of Chambersburg damages totalling $9,500 as a result of an accident near Gettysburg was approved by Judge W. C. Sheely, specially presiding in the Franklin county courts at Chambersburg Tuesday.

Mrs. Smith's Pie Co., of Pottstown, and David George, of York, R. D. 7 were co-defendants in the trespass suit filed by the Bietsches last Saturday asking damages totalling $11,693.89.

The settlement approved by Judge Sheely awarded $1,693.89 to Mr. and Mrs. Bietsch for medical expenses incurred as the result of injuries their son received in a truck accident near Gettysburg on October 21, 1944, and awarded $7,806.11 to the youth for pain and suffering and for future loss of earnings due to a permanent disability.

During the hearing it was brought out that the Bietsch youth was seriously injured while a passenger in a truck owned by the pie company and operated by an employee, David George. The truck left the Lincoln Highway, two miles west of Gettysburg, and struck a tree.

Dr. L. H. Seaton, who treated the Bietsch youth following his return to Chambersburg after two months' confinement in the Warner hospital said that as a result of injuries received in the accident the youth's left leg was amputated below the knee. The doctor added that Bietsch has a permanent disability to his right knee.

The youth said he had been to the York office of the pie company to secure employment and was returning to Chambersburg with George for his clothing preparatory to returning to York to begin work.

NAME SECTIONAL USO CHAIRMAN

Appointment of Earle H. Schaeffer, Harrisburg insurance executive, as chairman of the 15-county south-central section of Pennsylvania for the USO fall campaigns was announced yesterday by W. D. Gillen, state chairman of the USO campaign committee of Pennsylvania.

The area includes Adams, Bedford, Blair, Cambria, Cumberland, Dauphin, Franklin, Fulton, Huntingdon, Juniata, Lancaster, Lebanon, Mifflin, Perry and York counties. Dauphin and part of Perry county in the territory covered by the Community Chest and Council has a USO quota of $29,956, while the quota for the entire area is $180,000.

A member of the executive committee of the Community Chest and Council, Schaeffer is also a trustee of the Shippensburg State Teachers' college and of the Pennsylvania State Association for the Blind. He was formerly a director and vice-president of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce.

Current USO plans are for the discontinuance of the organization at the end of 1947, and meanwhile it "will continue to serve the men in hospitals, the men overseas on occupation duty, and the boys in training during 1947," Schaeffer said.

Freed From Jail Under $300 Bond

Luther Becker, 60, of East Berlin R. 1, arrested by state police on a surety of the peace charge preferred by Clifton S. Reynolds, Latimore township, and committed to jail Tuesday by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder in default of $300 bail, was released Tuesday afternoon on his own recognizance for a hearing Friday night. Becker was examined by a physician and released because of his health, Squire Snyder said.

An additional surety of the peace charge was laid against Becker's son, Ray Becker, 24, East Berlin R. 1, arrested with his father on Reynolds' complaint. The new information was laid by Harry L. Divil, Latimore township. Becker is in jail for the hearing Friday night.

COUPLE LICENSED

A marriage license was issued at the court house today to Paul Newell Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Clinton Campbell, Arlington, Va., and Miss Mildred Seibold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Seibold, New York City. The prospective groom is an actor, according to the license application, and Miss Seibold is in advertising. After their marriage they expect to make their home in Hollywood, Cal.

ST. JAMES PICNIC

Plans are being made for the annual St. James Sunday School picnic on Thursday, July 25, at Natural Springs park, a mile east of here along the Lincoln Highway. Details of the arrangements will be announced later. Transportation is to be provided.

ENGLAND'S KING ACTUALLY HAS GREAT POWERS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

For the foreigner who has been reared in the understanding that England's constitutional monarch has no governmental authority in his own right, there's an odd ring in the current petitions by British housewives to their King to repeal the bread rationing which is scheduled to become effective July 21.

Of course King George can't reverse his government's decision to ration bread and the indignant housewives are quite well aware of that fact, although your correspondent—having experienced Britain's spartan rationing recently—has an understanding sympathy with them in their plea. In the present case the appeals went to the home office to be dealt with, and the chances that his majesty would be consulted about them were indeed remote. Why then are such petitions addressed to him?

Well, of course, tradition has something to do with it—tradition which dates back to the days when kings ruled by divine right and were Lords of all they surveyed. And the average Briton clings to tradition as a Scotsman does to a sixpence. However, it strikes me that the real reason lies in the very fact that these days the monarch has no government powers but is completely detached from the political arena.

Outside Politics
Because he is wholly outside politics, although devoting his life to the people, he is held in the deepest respect and affection by his subjects. They feel that he is one of the men upon whom they can bank without reserve. And so, because of the unique position which he holds, an appeal addressed to him, even though he never deals with it, attracts public attention. Proof of this lies in the fact that the food ministry has increased the proposed bread ration slightly for children under 18 since the housewives' protest.

However, that isn't the whole story. Actually, and the constitution notwithstanding, the King of England is a very powerful individual, and the ministers of government pay much deference to his wishes. The reasons are (one) the high regard in which his subjects hold him, and (two) the fact that the direct heir to the throne is trained intensively from birth for his or her great responsibility. His education includes not only schooling in affairs of the home country but of the entire empire and the world at large. Thus the ruler is supremely well equipped to deal with matters of state.

TO PICK MAN FOR WELFARE BOARD

New York, July 17 (AP)—A seven-man negotiating committee representing Pennsylvania anthracite coal operators has scheduled a meeting here today to consider appointment of an operator representative for the board of trustees which will administer a welfare fund for hard coal miners.

The committee is empowered to recommend a trustee, Inglis said, but the recommendation must be approved by a meeting of all the operators in the Pennsylvania hard coal region, of which Scranton is the "capital."

He said it was possible the committee might not decide upon a nominee at today's meeting. Inglis declined to discuss possible candidates for the post.

Under terms of a contract negotiated between anthracite operators and the United Mine Workers (AFL) in June, the miners are to have a health and welfare fund financed by a five cents a ton royalty on hard coal.

A three-man board of trustees would administer the fund. One trustee would be appointed by the operators and two by the union.

Navy Chaplain To Head Dickinson

Boston, July 17 (AP)—After nearly 30 years as a navy chaplain, Capt. William Wilcox Edel is resigning to become a college president.

He has accepted the presidency of his alma mater, Dickinson college, Carlisle, Pa. First Naval District headquarters announced today. Decorated for service in two world wars, Capt. Edel is known as the designer of the "three-way altar" which converts navy chapels for use by Protestants, Jews and Catholics, and the "mariners' cross," emblem of navy chaplain activities.

Governor Proposes New Office Buildings

Pittsburgh, July 17 (AP)—Governor Martin would like to see a modern state office building erected in Pittsburgh's Golden Triangle.

Martin, in the city yesterday to address a group of Republican women, said the state is paying large sums in rent for scattered offices in Pittsburgh and that it would be a good idea to centralize all state activities in one building. He disclosed plans for a similar state building in Philadelphia.

A social hour was held at the conclusion of the meeting with Mrs. Robert Kennel, Mrs. Margaret Kennel and Mrs. John Waddell serving as hostesses.

CIO CHALLENGE CITED BY DUFF

Pittsburgh, July 17 (AP)—The Republican party "must accept the challenge" of the CIO Political Action Committee or allow a small segment of labor to dominate the scene in Pennsylvania, Attorney General James H. Duff told a regional meeting of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women yesterday.

Duff, GOP gubernatorial nominee, was joined in his call for year-round political activity on the part of voters by Governor Edward Martin, Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate.

"Because we have neglected political activity," Martin said, "we find now that one dollar in each three we earn goes for taxes. That is how we are financing our own folly."

Duff said the late PAC Chief Sidney Hillman, "who I regarded as a very sincere American, though I don't agree with many things he did," had correctly appraised the value of political action.

"The only way outside of revolution to get things done is through political channels," Duff said, adding that the economy of America was "completely out of joint," that production was in confusion and that the government had paid no attention to white collar workers, and the "certain groups" were anxious to continue and capitalize on confusion.

Newton, Mass., (AP)—The "forgotten key" service of the Newton Fire Department ends today.

Fire officials said they had run up their last ladder for people who had been careless and had forgotten or lost keys to their apartments.

"However," the officials added, "if there's a child locked in the house or in the bathroom, we'll still make the run."

Greensburg, Pa., July 17 (AP)—It was easy pickings for a thief at the Harry C. Wright jewelry store yesterday.

Asking the clerk to show him engagement rings, the man selected a $850 diamond, slipped it in his pocket and walked out. Police were still searching for the man today.

Engagement

Logan—Fish

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Fish, Mechanicsburg, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marian Louise Fish, to Robert Barr Logan, son of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. William A. Logan, Turtle Creek. No date has been announced for the wedding.

Miss Fish, who was graduated from Mechanicsburg high school and Gettysburg college, is employed for the summer months as music director in the Montgomery county, Md., playgrounds, adjacent to Washington, D. C. Following graduation from Gettysburg college in January, Mr. Logan plans to enter the Lutheran Theological seminary at Gettysburg.

Weddings

Parker—Simpson

Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Simpson, Emmitsburg, Md., announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Kitty Simpson, Annapolis, Md., to Capt. Lee T. F. Parker, USA, son of the late Mrs. Mary Lee Parker, Atlanta, Ga.

The wedding took place July 5 in Edgewater.

The bride had as her matron of honor, Mrs. Helen P. Stevens, Edgewater, sister of the bridegroom, Capt. Thomas Davis, USA, Omaha, Neb., was best man.

Mrs. Parker is field nursing supervisor in the Anne Arundel County Health Department, Annapolis. Later she will join Capt. Parker in Europe, where he will be stationed for several years.

Cluck—Miller

Miss Mildred Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray H. Miller, York, and First Lt. Jacob H. Cluck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cluck, Fairfield, were united in marriage July 8 at 2 p. m. in Northminster Presbyterian church, Baltimore.

The Rev. Arthur F. Wells performed the double ring ceremony. The couple were unattended. The newlyweds spent a week in New York.

The bride is a graduate of Fairfield high school, class of 1944, and is employed by the General Electric company. The bridegroom is also a graduate of Fairfield high school, class of 1941. He served 46 months in the United States army, two years of which were spent in the European theater of war.

Cashman—Neiderer

Miss Gertrude Elizabeth Neiderer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Neiderer, Hanover, R. D. 4, and James Burnell Cashman, son of Mrs. Nettie Cashman, Hanover, were married Saturday morning at a nuptial high mass at 7 o'clock in the Sacred Heart Catholic church, Conewago. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Cletus H. Wagman, in the presence of a large number of relatives of the couple. The church organist played traditional wedding music and the choir sang the mass. The couple had as their attendants, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Donnelly, brother-in-law and sister of the bride.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Broadway Lunch room, Hanover, and in the evening at 7 o'clock a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. More than sixty guests attended. The newlyweds were the recipients of many gifts.

The bride is employed by the L. E. Beaudin Shoe company. The bridegroom served for thirty months in the United States Navy during World War II, as a pharmacist mate, and was graduated from the Naval Hospital Corps School, Portsmouth, Va. He received his discharge April 22, and is now employed by the Hanover Wire Cloth company. They will reside at the home of the bridegroom's mother for the present.

Hear Crippled Vets' Plea On Rent Control

Washington July 17 (AP)—Congress heard the plea of a crippled war veteran—Harry Rohrbacher of Greensburg, Pa.—who protested in a telegram to Rep. Kelley (D-Pa.) against an ultimatum of eviction of a 100 per cent rent increase.

Kelley inserted the telegram in the Congressional Record yesterday during debate on the Senate-passed OPA extension bill.

Rohrbacher, in his telegram, said his landlord was increasing the rent from $25 to $50.

"I am a crippled ex-serviceman. I can't afford $50 rent as I am still taking treatment for my leg at my own expense. I know I am not the only one with rent difficulties but please won't you do something for us and all people in our class or advise us if there is anything that can be done to prevent the increase or eviction."

ENGINEER STRICKEN

Coatesville, Pa., July 17 (AP)—Stricken with a heart attack while operating a Pennsylvania Railroad locomotive in Parkersburg freight yards, George K. Smoker, about 45, Columbia, died a short time later after being brought to a Coatesville hospital. A fireman took over controls of the engine when he saw Smoker slump in his seat.

HOPE TO DRAFT RULE TO GUIDE ATOMIC ENERGY

New York, July 17 (AP)—A 12-nation atomic committee, including among its membership the Soviet union which opposed its formation last week, set to work today under instructions to draft a plan for a world atomic control agency.

It is the United Nations atomic energy commission's "committee No. 2" whose designated task is:

"To examine questions associated with the control of atomic energy activities, including all measures designed to insure the prevention of the use of atomic energy for purposes of destruction, and other weapons of mass destruction, and also including subject matters of possible conventions, sanctions and observance, and to make specific recommendations on said subjects."

Committee No. 2 was scheduled to meet at 10 a. m. EDT in secret session to launch the second phase of negotiations started by Subcommittee No. 1, which completed a preliminary exploration of the various nations' views on atomic control last week.

Soviet delegate Andrei A. Gromyko had opposed the formation of Committee No. 2 and the legal committee, insisting at a long commission session last Friday that no control system should be set up until the atom bomb had been outlawed.

He voted for setting up the scientific committee only after declaring Russia believed such a group should begin the exchange of information on atomic know-how immediately—a view opposed firmly by the United States.

PENNSYLVANIAN IN A WARTIME 'DEATH MARCH'

Washington, July 17 (AP)—A wartime "Death March" of a Pennsylvanian and six other American fliers on the German island of Borkum in the North sea two years ago was brought to light today with identification of the airman.

The seven, crewmen of a bomber which was forced down on the island, August 4, 1944, were beaten as they were forced to march through the streets, and then were shot and killed by Nazi soldiers the war department disclosed.

For the war crime, four German officers and men and the mayor of Borkum were sentenced to hang at a court martial trial at Ludwigsburg, in the American occupied zone of Germany, and nine other individuals were sentenced to prison. The chief of the local air raid police, Klase Meyer-Gerhards, was acquitted on evidence that he tried vainly to protect the Americans.

Mayor Incited Civilians
Members of the families of the victims were notified belated of the circumstances this week by the adjutant general. They included:

First Lieut. William J. Myers, whose widow was listed as Mrs. Patricia M. Myers, Titusville, Pa.; Second Lieut. Howard S. Graham, mother, Mrs. Gladys N. Graham, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Second Lieut. Harvey M. Walshall, mother, Mrs. Kathryn D. Walshall, Baltimore, Md.; Sgt. Kenneth Faber, wife, Mrs. Pauline A. Faber, Kenmore, N. Y.; Sgt. James W. Danno, mother, Mrs. Susie Mary Danno, Great Falls, Mont.; Sgt. William P. Dold, father, Bruce M. Dold, Glenn Ridge, N. J. and Sgt. William W. Lambertus, father, Gustave Lambertus, Passaic, N. J.

Mayor Ackerman of the town of Borkum was sentenced to hang for inciting civilians to attack the unprotected group. Others sentenced to die were Capt. Kurt Goebell, senior officers on the island, Lts. Jakob Seiler and Erich Wentzel, his subordinates, and Sgt. Johann Schmits, who was charged with guarding the prisoners.

Torchlight Parade By OPA Backers

Philadelphia, July 17 (AP)—A torchlight parade was scheduled tonight by members of the United Office and Professional Workers of America (CIO) as unionists continued demonstrations in the Philadelphia area urging revival of OPA.

The union yesterday circulated petitions which urged Congress to bring back price and rent control. Nicholas Chase, regional director of the union, said 2,800 persons signed the petitions.

Additionally, the Philadelphia citizens political action committee (unaffiliated), identified by its director, Rose Segure, as composed of "lawyers, doctors, teachers, businessmen and women, housewives, and citizens of many occupations who believe in independent political activity," joined the fight to revive OPA.

The food distributors association, in full page newspaper advertisements printed yesterday, told the public it "cannot absorb" all recent increases in wholesale prices. The group represents 24,000 retail food stores in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware.

Upper Communities

The Rev. and Mrs. S. K. Piercy, Macungie, have concluded a visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Lott, Aspers, R. I.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Raffensperger, Hershey, have concluded a visit with Mr. Raffensperger's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carey, Arendtsville, and with relatives in Gettysburg.

Children of the Church of Trinity
Lutheran church, Arendtsville, are being entertained at a picnic this afternoon at the Arendtsville Union park. The food for the picnic is being provided by the Women's Missionary society of the church. In charge of the children at the picnic are Mrs. Walter Frederick and Mrs. Guy Herring.

Roy Heckenluber, near Arendtsville, recently returned from Wayne, Michigan, where he obtained delivery of a new 4-place Stinson airplane. Accompanied by Leon Witzelman, an instructor at the Gettysburg Airport, he flew the plane to Gettysburg. The Arendtsville poultry dealer is building a new home near Arendtsville and is constructing a flight strip near the home from which he will fly his private plane.

Miss Anna Black and Miss Alice Black, of Flora Dale, have returned from a visit of several days with their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Swinney, of Warren, at their summer home at Foxburg. They were accompanied as far as Warriors Mark by their sister, Miss Mabel Black, of Philadelphia, who visited friends there. Miss Black returned to Philadelphia Tuesday after a visit with her sisters at Flora Dale.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Schlieder returned to Manchester, Vermont, Tuesday after spending a few days in Biglerville where they were called by the death of Mrs. Schlieder's father, Raymond Carbaugh.

Leo Kleinfelter who received his discharge from the Army Air corps some time ago will enter Shippensburg State Teachers' college in September as a Pennsylvania State college student.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Fleming, of Brooklyn, New York, have concluded a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Warren T. Dunn, of Biglerville.

Lloyd W. Kleinfelter, daughter, Barbara, and son, Leo, of Biglerville, were in Washington, D. C. today. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Kleinfelter who had spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Meyer at their home at Chevy Chase, Md.

David Houck who lost a leg in the Battle of the Bulge, told of his war experiences at the regular meeting of the Upper County Lions club Tuesday evening at Wishard's restaurant. Mr. Houck is now employed as a clerk at the Arendtsville National bank.

In the absence of the president, Bruce Burtner, John R. Fidler, vice-president, presided. Arrangements for the meeting were in charge of a committee headed by Dr. O. D. Coble.

The next meeting will be a family picnic at Williams Grove on Tuesday evening, August 13. The committee on arrangements includes Leroy Ziegler, Paul F. Osborn and Rowe Martin.

CIO Maps Strategy Under Higher Prices

Washington, July 17 (AP)—Top CIO policy makers assembled today to map wage strategy in the light of either laxer price controls or no future ceilings.

Leaders of the Labor organization and they are convinced that OPA "as we knew it is dead" and that workers now must plan on the basis of the two alternatives.

CIO President Philip Murray told reporters his meeting of vice presidents today and of the CIO executive board Thursday and Friday will adopt a wage-price program for the "guidance of our international unions."

On the basis of CIO pronouncements during the past two weeks, the sessions appeared likely to produce a two-fold declaration: (1) for concerted action to combat price rises by means of mass demonstrations and buyers' strikers, and (2) a determination to match living cost increases with pay boosts.

MATERIALS LACK WORKERS

Philadelphia, July 17 (AP)—There's material for men's suits in Philadelphia, manufacturers reported today, but not enough workers available to make them. William B. Flickstein, secretary of the Philadelphia Clothing Manufacturers' association, announced that suit manufacturers here could use at least 4,000 more employees, particularly hand tailors and machine operators.

FINDERS KEEPERS?

Pasadena, Calif., (AP)—Ruth Farley, stepping on a sidewalk scale to weigh, hit the jackpot when she inserted her penny and the machine coughed 200 coins at her.

The store proprietor rushed out to sweep up the pennies and assured Miss Farley it was not one of those weighing machines which also gives you your "fortune."

Arendtsville

Miss Theresa Eberley, Lancaster, spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Raffensperger.

Mrs. Nevin R. Frantz spent Monday at Hood college, Frederick, attending the Women's Guild conference being held there this week.

Charles Slaybaugh, who has been overseas for nearly a year, is spending some time with his wife and son at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Laura Orner.

Jack Orner and Bert Frederick are spending this week at Camp Nawakwa.

The classes of the Reformed Sunday school, taught by Rev. Frantz and Mrs. Harry Kime, will hold their annual picnic in the park on Saturday afternoon and evening.

The CIO United Auto Workers projected a meat buyers strike today to which they invited the participation of all America's consumers.

Fighting the climb in living costs, the big labor union which helped to set up the nation's postwar wage structure sought to mobilize the public against "exorbitant" meat prices.

The UAW-CIO, calling for co-operation from its own 800,000 members and all other organized labor and consumer groups, ordered its strike to start today. It is to last seven days.

Worker demonstrations in several cities Tuesday signaled the start of the UAW-CIO's nationwide "anti-inflation" campaign. Rival AFL unions joined hands with the CIO's auto union in several instances.

Meat Only First Aim
UAW President Walter P. Reuther, addressing a police-estimated crowd of 40,000 to 50,000 in Detroit's Cadillac Square, called for the meat buyers strike in order to restore "reasonable prices" and to "terrorize profiteers."

Reuther, charging "reactionary elements" were "hell-bent for the good old days," said meat was only the union's first target. He said rents and other items would follow unless prices were brought down by act of Congress or otherwise reduced.

UAW-sponsored rallies took place in Cleveland, Chicago and other cities in the union's "save the OPA" drive. Congress was urged to restore price control and consumers to restrict their buying to "most urgent necessities." Attendance at the affairs fell below unionists' pre-rally estimates, but UAW officials said they were satisfied with the turnout.

Wage Hike Threat
In Detroit an estimated 20,000 to 30,000 Chrysler workers left their jobs temporarily, cutting production. There were no reports to indicate widespread disruption of work, however.

The UAW-CIO members have lost much of their wage gains of the postwar period to rising prices.

In that connection Richard T. Leonard, UAW vice president, said wage contracts "must be open for negotiation if price control is open for destruction."

HALF MILLION ARE EXAMINED

Harrisburg, July 17 (AP)—Slightly more than half a million school age children received medical and dental examinations in the 1945-46 school year, the state health department announced today.

The cost of the examinations, made under the 1945 school health act, was approximately $1,101,000 for medical, nursing, dental and clerical work. The new law requires complete medical and dental examinations of all pupils and school employees.

The department reported 462,991 examinations were given in schools of first, second and third class districts with the number of teachers examined 12,745, and other school employees, 4,738.

In addition, there were 39,225 pupils given medical tests by the state directly in 250 fourth class or rural districts.

The department's school division said of the rural pupils examined 23,362 were found to have remediable medical defects. These included 9,755 with enlarged tonsils; 6,432 defective vision; 3,915 enlarged glands; 3,754 heart defects; 1,732 suffering from poor nutrition; 1,339 ear defects; 751 chest defects; 439 abdominal defects and 333 pulmonary defects.

The department said a breakdown is being made of defects found in pupils of city and urban districts but is yet incomplete.

The department also announced county medical directors under the supervision of the department will attend conferences here during the next three weeks in connection with plans for the health program in the next school term.

LAPHAM RECALL FAILS IN 'FRISCO

San Francisco, July 17 (AP)—Roger D. Lapham still is mayor of San Francisco. A recall movement to oust the former steamship company executive failed in light balloting yesterday—73,673 for the recall, 105,742 against.

The recall movement, dating back to the Lapham-approved increase this spring of streetcar fares from seven to ten cents, was sponsored by a group led by Henry F. Budde, publisher of neighborhood weekly throw-away newspapers.

Budde early last night conceded the recall attempt had failed.

Lapham is a 62-year-old former steamship lines executive who left a $30,000-a-year job to take over the mayoralty at $10,000.

Milk Production Declined In June

Harrisburg, July 17 (AP)—A continued decline in milk production on Pennsylvania farms in June was reported by the State Agriculture Department today.

A federal-state survey showed 502,000,000 pounds of milk were produced in June, a decline of two per cent below both May of this year and June of 1945.

The survey found dairy farmers depending heavily on pastures, Good commercial feeds, the survey said, were difficult to obtain.

Farmers were unanimous in expecting higher prices for milk at the time of the survey, the department added, because of the end of government subsidies "but many expressed doubt that increases will be high enough to meet current higher costs of production."

RADIO STATION STRIKE

Philadelphia, July 17 (AP)—President Benedict Gimbel, Jr., joined other executives today in helping to keep radio station WIP operating during a strike of 45 members of Local 1, American Communications Association CIO. The union represents the station announcers, technicians and some office personnel.

Sen. Barkley's

a midwestern munitions combine. Army officers and other witnesses have pictured him as a persistent advocate of war contracts for the group.

May has offered to testify publicly if given the right of cross-examination of witnesses by counsel of his choice. The senate group turned this down.

Call Two Women
Two women witnesses were summoned today.

They are Mrs. Eleanor R. Hall, described by a witness yesterday as being "emotionally upset" when she quit the office a year and a half ago, and Mrs. Jean Bates, her successor as secretary in the local headquarters of Erie Basin Metal Products company, Elgin, Ill., and Batavia Metal Products company, Batavia, Ill.

Their testimony was expected to conclude the senate war investigating committee's inquiry into the affairs of the companies, an inquiry which has brought repeated assertions that Rep. May (D-Ky.) helped the firms obtain war contracts. May has denied that he profited in any way.

Had $1,000 Bills

The name of the house military committee chairman came up in the hearings again yesterday when Louis Sarelis, former office manager for Joseph Freeman, Washington representative of the Illinois firms, testified that May once "chastised him over the telephone for saying that Freeman was 'in New York making money for us.'"

Besides his reference to May, Sarelis gave the committee testimony that Freeman habitually carried a supply of $1,000 bills on his person.

New York, July 17 (AP)—Steel firms this week feared that history would repeat itself and that scrap prices would soar much higher than before the war in view of the dissipation of scrap supplies during wartime operations. The Iron Age, national metalworking paper reported today.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars and Knox's Grocery were victorious in Tuesday evening's Community softball league conflicts with the VFW edging out the Ice and Storage 5 to 4 and Knox's pounding out a 9 to 4 win over the State Guard.

Ice and Storage led all the way until the sixth inning in their game. In the sixth, with two out, the VFW loaded the bases and then scored McSherry, Sachs and Weikert, with the assistance of a fast one that went through an outfielder's legs. Five of the Vets' 12 hits were bunched in that sixth inning. The Icemen were unable to come back despite four hits in the seventh.

McClaff pounded out a triple during the tilt. Wisotsky and White blasted out homers and Epley, Sanders and Hankey were good for doubles.

This evening the community teams will rest while the All-Stars collide in a benefit tilt at the high school grounds. So far 350 tickets have been sold for the affair with an additional number expected to be sold during the day and at the game tonight.

Idaville Team Wins Two Games

Idaville's baseball squad picked up two victories this week, defeating Heidelberg 7 to 0 Monday evening in a twilight tilt at Idaville and then downing Bendersville 6 to 4 at Bendersville Tuesday evening.

Rose allowed only two hits or Idaville in the Monday game while R. Decker, hurling for the visitors, permitted the Idaville squad nine hits.

In Tuesday's contest at Bendersville, Finrock started for Idaville an allowed two hits, two runs and walked two batters. He was relieved in the top half of the fifth by G. Murtoff who gave up one hit one run. Wenk went the route for Bendersville, giving up eight hits and six runs.

GAME AT ARENDTSTVILLE

The Littlestown-Arendtville Adams county league game at 2:30 o'clock will be held at Arendtville. Team officials announced today. The game was originally scheduled for Littlestown but the change was made because of a previous commitment for the Littlestown diamond.

Inter State League

(By The Associated Press)
Harrisburg climbed into a second place tie with Sunbury in the Interstate league today by outslugging Allentown, 11 to 10, as the Yankees lost again to Wilmington.
Wilmington increased its league lead to eight and a half games in chalking up a 5-2 win last night.
Hagerstown clung to a slim two-percentage point advantage over Trenton's fifth-place Giants by trouncing Lancaster, 14 to 2. Trenton, meantime, overwhelmed lowly York, 11 to 7.

NEWHOUSER OUT IN FRONT AGAIN

(By KEN GREGORY)
Detroit, July 17 (AP)—Day by day, it looks like Harold (the Lefty) Newhouse again will be crowned king of American league pitchers.
The elongated, level-headed master of the mound is chucking the baseball for Detroit at a pace well ahead of the past two seasons when he topped the circuit performers.
Sandy-haired Hal won 17 games and lost only three as of July 15, for the best 1946 mark in the league. And, incidentally, that figure puts him far in front of his curve-balling record in '44 and '45.

1944 Was Best Year
The 25-year-old mound ace had his best year in the majors in 1944 when he hurled 29 victories and suffered nine defeats. That year, through July 15, his record showed only 13 wins and five losses.

In 1945, Newhouse grabbed 13 triumphs, but lost six through mid-July as he amassed a season record of 25 victories and nine setbacks.
So, looking at the ledger for the present, Hal's 17 won and three lost puts him decidedly ahead of his two best seasons in both columns. With the season not half completed, he has what appears an excellent opportunity of crashing into the 30-game winner class.

Sports Roundup

New York, July 17 (AP)—Best summary of prospects for the all-American football conference clubs, which already are opening their training camps, comes from a guy in that circuit who should know most of the angles. "I'd see three groups with New York and Los Angeles in the first on account of the edge to Ray Flaherty and Bud DeGroot's experience in the tough National circuit," he says. "Cleveland, San Francisco and Miami go in the second group with Paul Brown, Buck Shaw and Jack Meagher, nice college coaches who will learn a lot this year, and Brooklyn, Chicago and Buffalo in the third." He sounds about right, as those tough National leagues always have contended it takes three years for a good college coach to learn pro football.

SHORTS AND SHELLS

Red Hogan, who'll quarterback the Kansas team next fall, hit 400 for the baseball team last spring and recently fired a 79 and 77 on his first two trips around the Lawrence golf course. That distinguishes him from ordinary quarterbacks, who likely would hit 400 in golf and 979 in baseball. "Larry MacPhail is in one of his old Brooklyn 'berling' moods about the story that he said there'll be a wholesale shakeup in the Yankees. . . . The new pro basketball association will need a two million dollar take to show a profit next winter and some club owners already are wondering if they can make it. . . . When Manager Greig Mulleavy of the Olean, N. Y., Pony league club couldn't find a winning combination in his lineup, he asked prexy Spencer Harris to make a try. Har's wrote out a batting order and the Oilers used it to win ten straight. . . . No, Mulleavy wasn't fired."

IN THE MIDDLE

Rip Miller, whose winning personality never drove any prospective athletes away from Annapolis, suffered a terrific blow to his professional pride the other day when his son, Tommy, a husky prep tackle, remarked: "I'm thinking about trying to get into West Point. If I did, just where would you stand in the matter?"

Putter Trouble Besets Ben Hogan

Chicago, July 17 (AP)—Blazing Ben Hogan, just like the lowly doffer, is having putter trouble and so is his army rival, Byron Nelson, is favored in the $10,000 Chicago Victory National golf tournament opening Friday at exacting Medinah Country club.

Hogan, golf's leading money winner with a 1946 take of $25,214, has been a feeble also-ran in his last two starts and plainly has putting jitters.

It dates back to a costly 18-inch miss in the Augusta Masters and an equally distressing 32-inch miss in the U. S. open. Hogan, long regarded as the perfection peer of Nelson, now is testing new putters in desperate fashion and forgetting his practice tee shots for long sojourns on the putting velvet.

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Ervin Dusak, virtually unknown rookie outfielder of the St. Louis Cardinals, is the fair-haired boy to thousands in St. Louis today.
"Four Sack Dusak," "The Bohemian Blaster," last night hammered what may become one of the most important blows of the National league pennant race.
The 26-year-old native of Chicago clouted a three-run pinch-hit ninth inning home run in Sportsman's park to give the Cardinals a 5-4 victory over the league leading Brooklyn Dodgers and move the Redbirds to within a half game of the Brooks.

Giants Blank Cubs
Chicago's third place Cubs missed an opportunity to gain on the Dodgers as Bill Voiselle of the New York Giants blanked the Cubs, 1-0 on six hits.

Boston's front-running American league Red Sox dropped their second home game of the season to a western club as Bobby Feller of the Cleveland Indians scattered nine Red Sox's hits to post his 16th win of the year, 6-3.

Feller fanned seven batters to run his strikeout total to 202 for the season. Ken Keltner slammed two home runs and Pat Seery one.

Phillies Win
The Boston Braves took over undisputed possession of fourth place in the senior circuit by trouncing the Pittsburgh Pirates, 10-0, behind big Mort Cooper while the Cincinnati Reds were shutout, 2-0 by Schoolboy Rowe of the Philadelphia Phillies.

The St. Louis Browns retained their fifth place deadlock with Cleveland by trimming the Washington Senators, 7-1.

In the only other contest of the day, portside Edgar Smith of the Chicago White Sox limited the Philadelphia Athletics to five safeties in elbowing the pale hose to a 6-2 victory.

The New York Yankees and the Detroit Tigers were not scheduled.

Winning Streak Of Banks Is Ended

Pittsburgh, July 17 (AP)—The string of 12 victories built up by Charley Banks, Cincinnati welterweight, was interrupted by a defeat at the hands of Charley Burley of Pittsburgh in a slow-moving 10-rounder last night at Zivic arena.
Banks showed none of the stuff that had given him eight knockouts in his last dozen bouts. Late in the match, the action became so slow that the 4.103 fans boomed loudly. Burley weighed 158, Banks 165.
In another fight, Charles Eschman, 148, Cincinnati, won over Jackie Armitage, 147, New Kensington, Pa. (6).

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)
The Hartford Chiefs exploded seven runs in the ninth inning of an Eastern league game against the Wilkes-Barre Barons last night to win 8 to 5 and gain a split in a double header. The Barons had whitewashed the Chiefs in the first game, 3-0.

The Utica Blue Sox won their third straight from the Elmira Pioneers, 7-4, and the Binghamton Triplets defeated the Williamsport Grays, 8-6. The Scranton Miners lost to Detroit of the American league in an exhibition tilt, 13-9.

Tonight's schedule: Utica at Williamsport, (2); Binghamton at Elmira, (2); Hartford at Scranton, (2); Albany and Wilkes-Barre.

Motorbike Races Sunday At Grove

Motorcycle races will be resumed Sunday at Williams Grove Speedway. Roy Richwine, owner of the half-mile oval announced today. The races will be the first to be run there since before the war.

Among the featured riders in the event will be Billy Huber, Reading daredevil, who already holds three five and ten mile records for motorcycles. He was recently discharged from the navy after three years' service.

The U.S. statute mile is 5,280 feet in length, while the U.S. nautical mile is 6,080.20 feet long.

Says Fishing Is Excellent In State

Harrisburg, July 17 (AP)—Fishermen's luck is definitely good this year in Pennsylvania, says State Fish Commissioner C. A. French.
"We have had a marvelous trout season and the bass fishing so far has been wonderful in most sections of the state," French told a reporter.
Declaring more fishermen are out than at anytime in the history of the commission, French said, "I don't know where they are all coming from but the fishermen are there and many fine catches have been reported."
The trout season closes July 31 and that for bass and other warm water fish November 30.

SOLUTION OF DEGNAN CASE REPORTED NEAR

Chicago, July 17 (AP)—Police and state's attorney officials today were reportedly seeking a showdown in their nearly three weeks long investigation of William Heirens' connection with the kidnap slaying of Suzanne Degnan and the slaying of two Chicago women.

The Chicago Tribune said today that Heirens' counsel "in the next few days expects to take a full and written confession" from the 17-year-old college student "that he was the slayer" of the six-year-old Degnan child and also of Frances Brown, 33, a former WAVE, and Mrs. Josephine Ross, 43.

The Tribune's story today related that a conference last Sunday among State's Attorney William J. Tuohy and his assistants and defense counsel "centered on whether the state would demand a sentence of life and 99 years or on a sentence of 'natural' life."

Die In Prison

"It is understood that the state has gained its point. The present understanding, it is reported, calls for a sentence of 'natural' life in the penitentiary, i.e., a sentence which would mean that Heirens would die in prison. However, to make doubly sure of this, the agreement reported includes a provision that Heirens make guilty pleas and be sentenced on 15 or more burglary charges to be served after—if ever—the natural life sentence. Both the state's attorney and counsel for Heirens are agreed that under these terms the triple slayer never again would be a free man."

The Tribune added that Heirens' parents "have advised their attorneys to do 'what's best.'"

In a copyright story yesterday the Tribune said it had learned from "unimpeachable sources" that Heirens "has told" of the kidnaping and killing the Degnan child and also of slaying Miss Brown and Mrs. Ross. Today, the Tribune said that both the prosecution and defense attorneys had stated "that Heirens did not tell of the murders while under the influence of sodium pentothal, the so-called 'truth serum.'"

First Use of Drug

The Chicago Sun, however, today said it had learned that Heirens, while under the influence of sodium pentothal, "admitted the Suzanne Degnan kidnap-murder when he was given the drug at the Bridewell hospital June 29, blaming 'George Murman,' his other self, for the crime."

The Sun said also "from reliable

B. K. WHEELER TRAILING IN MONTANA RACE

(By The Associated Press)
Unreported precincts in Montana's small towns and wide open spaces held the answer today to Senator Burton K. Wheeler's bid for re-nomination for a fifth term.
With most of the urban areas heard from, the frequent objector to New Deal foreign and domestic policies—who nevertheless received a helping hand during his campaign from President Truman—was more than 4,000 votes behind Lief Erickson, 40-year-old former state Supreme Court Justice.

In 62 of the 1156 precincts Erickson had 35,840, Wheeler 31,410.

The race diverted national interest from three other primaries yesterday in Arizona, Arkansas and Wyoming, which resulted in the re-nomination of all incumbent Congressmen seeking re-election.

Labor Backs Erickson
Erickson, who hammered at Wheeler as a pre-Pearl Harbor isolationist and declared he had a bias against organized labor, was backed by the CIO-PAC, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, Senator James E. Murray (D-Mont.) and the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt's son, James.

Erickson ran up most of his lead yesterday in Wheeler's home town and long-time political stronghold, heavily unionized Butte, despite letters by President Truman and John L. Lewis, president of the AFL Union Mine Workers, defending Wheeler's labor record.

Today Georgia Democrats selected nominees for governor and ten Congress seats in a primary which saw Negroes and 18-year-olds vote for the first time.

FBI Agent John F. Trost said in Atlanta the Department of Justice had ordered that the balloting be watched to protect the right of Negroes to vote in accordance with a ruling by the Supreme Court of the United States.

Other Results
Candidates in the red-hot race for governor were Eugene Talmadge, trying to make a comeback and win the statehouse chair for the fourth time; James V. Carmichael, 38-year-old former state legislator backed by Gov. Ellis Arnall; former Gov. E. D. Rivers and ex-soldier Hoke O'Kelley.

Talmadge campaigned on a "white supremacy" platform and warned "wise" Negroes to stay away from the polls.

Yesterday's primary results in brief:
Arizona—Senator Ernest W. McFarland, Reps. John R. Murdoch and Richard F. Harless and Gov. Sidney P. Osborn all Democrats, renominated easy.

Wyoming—Senator Joseph C. O'Mahony, Gov. Lester C. Hunt and Rep. Frank A. Barrett unopposed for Democratic renomination. Earl Wright, state treasurer, led former Gov. Nels H. Smith in the Republican primary for nomination for governor.

Arkansas—Reps. Oren Harris and Brooks Hays won Democratic renomination, each defeating two former army officers.

Montana—Rep. Mike Mansfield (DL) renominated over lone opponent; Rep. Wesley A. D'Ewart (R) unopposed.

Erie Sailors Again Win From Johnstown

(By The Associated Press)
The Erie Sailors made it two in a row over Johnstown in a middle Atlantic league game last night, winning 5-3 behind the six-hit pitching of Jimmy Morrison.
The Gobs got all their runs in the first inning when they chased Red Conklin and Ed Patterson before a man had been retired.

Niagara Falls won its third successive game from the Butler Yanks, 5-2. A three-run spurge, aided by three hits and three Butler errors in the fifth, decided the contest.

Superlative "clutch" pitching by Dick McIntyre gave Oil City a 5-4 verdict over Youngstown. Lew Richardson homered for Youngstown in the second.

TOO HIGH—DON'T BUY

Tulsa, Okla., (AP)—Rebelling against a price of 79c a pound for butter, Tulsa housewives kept telephones busy yesterday with a "chain" campaign aimed at stopping retail sales of butter.

Each caller asked that the listener telephone two additional persons and pledge them not to buy butter until the price went down. An anonymous butter distributor claimed a boycott would have only one effect—diverting the local supply to eastern markets.

sources, it was also learned that he subsequently admitted he killed Frances Brown and Mrs. Josephine Ross.

The Sun added that this was "the first time that the drug was used in a major criminal case."

The Tribune said that "use of the drug occurred early in the investigation and was intended only to determine whether the state of amnesia exhibited by the prisoner was real or feigned. The sole determination of this test was that Heirens was shamming and subsequently he was moved to the detective bureau."

Yank, Army magazine, had a paid circulation of nearly 3,000,000.

Kelly To Ask NAM Be Held In Contempt

Washington, July 17 (AP)—Rep. Kelley (D-Pa.) said he plans to ask the House Labor Committee today to find the National Association of Manufacturers "in contempt."

Kelley told a reporter last night that NAM has ignored invitation of his labor committee setup to investigate the causes of labor unrest—to send representatives to hearings Kelley said his subcommittee has no subpoena powers. He said he believes the NAM should "not hold itself above participating in a conscientious effort by Congress to work out long-range labor legislation."

PREPARE FOR LONG STRIKE

McKeesport, Pa., July 17 (AP)—Union leaders announced today they are preparing for a long work stoppage in the strike of 150 McKeesport city employees, which began Monday midnight.

Plans are under way, said officials of Local 306, CIO-United Public Workers, to raise a strike relief fund to aid the workers, who seek an immediate 18½ cents hourly pay raise.

All services in this community of more than 55,000 were halted except for the water supply and police and fire protection. Garbage collections were made only at the city's two hospitals.

Picket lines were established at the city's incinerator, two city garages and other municipal installations.

Meanwhile, another walkout, involving Deputy City Treasurer

Company Soon to Open Big

Plant: Within the next month the great plant of the Musselman Canning company at Inwood, West Virginia, said to be the largest canning factory of its kind in the world will be in operation, according to information in an article describing the plant in the Martinsburg Journal. The West Virginia company is owned by the C. H. Musselman Company, Biglerville.

Headquarters of General Lee Sold: Repairs are underway on the building just west of the borough limits on Buford street, known as the headquarters of General Lee during the battle of Gettysburg, by C. F. Daly, manager of the Five and Ten Cent Store, who recently purchased the property and the one across the Lincoln Highway from it, from Mrs. Susan Hennig. Mr. Daly will open a curio and souvenir shop in the front of the building. His family will move there next spring.

The record shows the property was purchased by Thaddeus Stevens as a sheriff's sale in 1846 and the statesman was its owner in 1863 at the time it was occupied by General Lee. The building and real estate was purchased in 1888 by Philip Hennig and has been owned by that family ever since.

Charter Granted: Among the recent charters granted for this section of the state was one of the Biglerville Electric Light and Power company, Biglerville, with a capital of $5,000. The incorporators were Samuel Z. Musselman, Orrtanna, Ivan Z. Musselman and Samuel H. Musselman.

New Cardinal Reads Mass Here: Regaled in the simple vestments of a priest, Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, recently exalted to the rank of Cardinal of the Catholic church by the Pope Benedict in Rome, read mass Tuesday morning in the St. Francis Catholic church. The presence of the noted prelate attracted a congregation that filled the edifice.

The Cardinal accompanied by a coterie of church notables, left the Eagle Hotel for the church at 6:30 o'clock and immediately upon their arrival the masses were started. Three masses were read at one time one of the celebrants being the Cardinal. There was no pomp or display on the part of the prelate and many in the audience were unable to recognize him by the part he took in the ceremony.

After breakfast the party made a tour of the battlefield under the guidance of Leander Martin.

Benches for Circle: Men who are in the habit of sitting about the Center Square ornament these hot summer evenings will be provided with comfortable benches. In the near future for Charles H. Wilson, East Middle street, has ordered at his own expense twelve large benches. Mr. Wilson expects to place the benches around the outer edge of the circle.

Swimming Ban on Marsh Creek: Announcement was made on Wednesday by Dr. C. G. Crist, county medical director that he had placed a swimming quarantine on Marsh Creek from the pumping station to a point in the stream one mile north of the Lincoln Highway. The quarantine includes Black Hole, Herter's Dam and other places frequented by swimmers.

This action was taken by the health authorities after an inspection of the creek had been made by Dr. Crist at the request of the Gettysburg Water Company. John Deatrick, of Biglerville, county health officer, has been given the task of enforcing the edict.

Low water in Marsh Creek due to drought and the possibility of resulting epidemics was given by Dr. Crist as the main reason for establishing the quarantine.

Today's Talk

THE SUBTERRANEANS

We live in a fearful and disturbing time. There is much bitter talk going on. There is name calling and nations are ying with one another for power and expansion. But there is something that most people rarely, if ever, think about, and that is that there are great and noble human beings ever at work — "unflected and intent" — who are concerned with the real things of life.

These real things are concerned with the spiritual values that alone can change the thought and conduct of the world. Nothing but tragedy comes from quarrelling. There must be unity in the world, else there is chaos. These subterranean, let us call them, are not the ones who seek the limelight and hunger for applause. They are the searchers for truth, for a better way of life, and for greater justice in the world.

They are also the ones who are travellers in little things, seeing beauty in the commonplace, painting pictures and writing poems, that may never see the light of day, but which the Creator does not dismiss as futile.

I do not think that the humble ants are much of an agency toward the progress of the world, yet men have written great books about them, and spent years in their study, their habits, their ways of life, and perhaps trying to see wherein man may profit by some of their examples of ant life.

Natural history is one of the most absorbing studies possible. Nature is full of solutions, needing only intelligence to grapple with them. This is being done by thousands of so-called amateurs, scattered everywhere, doing their humble job of joy.

There are quiet forces ever at work. Thinking is something that can never be rationed! Beneath the crust of the superficial minding of many are to be found examples aplenty of those who quietly concentrate upon really worthwhile tasks. They dive below the surface of hate and fear and do the miraculous without fanfare.

In some backwoods cabin, or upon some lonely farm, or in some poverty-stricken tenement, many minds may now be thinking out some solution for the eternal abolishment of war. Certainly there are those who are terrifically intent upon some discovery that may benefit mankind.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Good Will."

SENSITIVE GARDEN
A garden has sensitive feelings, I'm sure,
Like those of some friends.
The hurt of neglect it can never endure.
On love it depends.

Be ever so little or thoughtless the slight,
Its charms quickly fade.
It will turn melancholy with grief overnight,
As of flesh it were made.

A garden has sensitive feelings! Beware
Of neglecting its needs!
The moment it fancies no longer you care
It runs into weeds.

FORESTER SAYS NOW IS TIME TO PLAN LOGGING

"Farmers don't get the chance to do much logging in the summer, but the summer is the time for planning next winter's logging jobs," said R. L. Dolton, farm forester, here today.

"Logs will bring good prices next winter. Besides, farmers who can't build or repair this year, will want to get some lumber stacked and drying for next year. Also there will be plenty of money to be made in pulpwood, ties, and other forest products."

"Now is the time to be planning where the cutting is to be done, what trees are to come out, and what arrangements are to be made to prevent damage to the remaining trees, to the forest floor and to the young seedlings. These arrangements will pay, if landowners want to keep a good supply of thrifty trees coming along.

"Plan It Right"
"Here is a chance for farmers to work in their own woodland, and for orchardists to keep their men busy on days not suitable for pruning, spraying and other orchard work."

"Any farmer who is figuring on logging next winter will find it to his advantage to talk things over with the local farm forester. This will enable him not only to figure on trees that ought to come out, but also to get a line on markets. Help from the farm forester is free. Just drop a card to Richard L. Dolton, Farm Forester, Penna.

Department of Forests and Waters, Mont Alto, Penna.

"Plan your next winter's logging right now, and plan to log your woodland right."

MOST '46 CROPS LARGER THAN '45

All major Pennsylvania and Adams county fruit crops, except cherries, will be larger this year than last, the state Department of Agriculture reported today as a result of the federal-state first-of-the-month general crop survey.

Best news for consumers was the announced indication of a commercial apple crop of 7,020,000 bushels, close to three times the 1945 crop of 2,470,000 which was the smallest for Pennsylvania in 24 years. The July 1 indicated production for this year is only about 1,800,000 less than the 10-year average, 1935 to 1944.

The 1946 peach crop as of July 1, is estimated at 1,528,000 bushels, about 300,000 more than last year and approximately 200,000 under average.

An exceptionally large crop of grapes was indicated July 1. The estimate of 18,000 tons would be three times last year's production and nearly 400 tons above average. Between June 1 and July 1 pear estimates advanced from 210,000 to 234,000 bushels, nearly twice the 1945 crop, but 248,000 below average. The estimated 1946 cherry crop of 4,100 tons is only 200 less than last year but is little more than half the average annual crop of 7,940 tons.

Apply Sprays, Dusts: Extension plant pathologists advise frequent use of sprays or dusts in the home garden to help check blight on potato, tomato, celery, and other plants.

FIREMEN AT FAIRFIELD MAY BUY BUILDING

The Fairfield fire company is considering purchase of the community center there and expects to use the building not only to house the fire engines and equipment but to develop a program of community activities, it was learned today.

Final decision on whether the company will buy the structure will come at a special business meeting of the firemen to be held July 24 at 8:30 p. m. in the community hall.

Monday night the firemen held a special meeting at which the elected officers of the company, headed by President S. L. Allison were appointed to determine the possible cost of the community center and to report back at the July 24 meeting.

If the report of the committee in regards to price and terms is satisfactory the company is expected to go ahead with plans for the purchase of the structure.

While no details have been officially released concerning the changes that will have to be made in the community center, if the company buys it, discussions among some firemen have favored plans to construct ramps into the basement of the building and store the engines and other equipment in what is now the dining hall of the center.

Under that plan the fire trucks could be driven out of the basement during periods when it is desired to use the basement for dinners and the tables and chairs placed in the area used for the trucks. The auditorium-gymnasium in that way would be free for use at any time without interfering with the fire engines and equipment in the basement.

The present fire company building is a former home bought a number of years ago and converted by the addition of a side shed into an engine house.

Revive Conference At State College

The annual conference on the Broad Problems of Agriculture will be revived at the Pennsylvania State college August 19 and 20. Prominent educators and leaders in various fields will assist in the discussions. Domestic and foreign policies, land uses, rural health program, and the place of co-operatives are among the topics listed.

At each of the five sessions planned, either a panel discussion or a symposium is planned, to permit free exchange of ideas. Domestic policies for lasting prosperity will be discussed at the opening session, to be followed by an analysis of foreign policy and its relation to agriculture. Dr. F. A. Harper, noted economist of Cornell university, and Prof. Elbert C. Westfall, of the City college of New York, will appear on these panels.

O. B. Jesness, Minnesota economist, will speak on "Use of the Land for the General Welfare" to open the second day's meeting. This will be followed by a panel discussion on Pennsylvania land use. On the panel will appear a Yale university professor, two farm leaders of the State, and three faculty members from Penn State's school of agriculture.

County Salesman Wins 5-Year Award

R. S. Keith, salesman for the livestock and poultry feed division of the Ralston Purina company, will receive the company's five-year award on July 15, when he completes his fifth year with that company.

Keith is well known to farmers and feeders throughout this area as a result of his work with Paul Lehman at York Spring and Biglerville Warehouse company at Biglerville. Born in Washington, Indiana, he attended Purdue university.

Before joining the company, Keith spent ten years in sales work in Ohio. Since joining Purina, he has lived at Mansfield, Ohio, and State College and Hanover, Pennsylvania. He now makes his home in New Oxford.

FARM CALENDAR

School of Agriculture
Feed Brood Sows Well—If brood sows are skimmed on feed, or are maintained on pasture only, the pigs will be small and weak. During the two months before farrowing be sure the sows get enough grain to permit weight gains of one-half to three-fourths pound daily, and that animal protein, such as tankage and fish meal, if available, be added to the ration at the rate of one-half pound per day per sow.

Like Contour Strips—After several years of experience with contour strip cropping, farmers are reporting their complete satisfaction, says Frank G. Bamer, extension agronomist of the Pennsylvania State College. Most of them adopt the "standard" width strip of somewhere between 80 and 100 feet, depending upon local conditions and the type of machinery to be used.

Urges Adequate Wiring—To assure adequate wiring when high-line electricity is made available to farm residences, barns, and other buildings, complete floor plans should be made, showing where outlets are to be located, with the volume of their expected current load indicated.

HOUSEWIVES URGED TO CAN MORE FOODS

Pointing out that "new emphasis was given to saving food for future use in the designation of this week as Home Food Preservation Week," Miss Mildred L. Adams, county home economics extension representative, today urged housewives to can and preserve more foods this year than ever before.

Many Adams county homemakers have already added jars of fruit and vegetables to their storage shelves from the early crops or have increased the supplies in their freezer lockers, Miss Adams added. The special week ushers in the late summer and fall food preservation.

When fruits are preserved by freezing, they provide a fine treat in winter meals. Of course, Miss Adams explained, "they are only as good as they were when gathered." That means that they are to be just at the stage of ripeness for eating "out of hand."

Tips on Freezing
Liquid-tight containers are needed for packaging fruits with dry sugar or syrups, she said.

"In general, fruits are prepared for freezing by cleaning thoroughly and washing. Ice water is recommended for washing berries, since it keeps the fruit chilled and helps to retard the action of enzymes which alter the fruit flavors."

"Some fruits can be frozen without sugar; however, strawberries and peaches are best with sugar. How much sugar to use depends upon how sweet the family likes the fruit and the tartness of the fruit. Generally, 1 part to 4 or 5 parts of fruit by weight is a good rule. Corn sirup and honey may be substituted for one-third of the amount of sugar needed."

Offers Bulletin
"Complete directions are given in Circular 252, 'Freezing Vegetables and Fruits for Home Use,' which may be obtained upon request to the county agricultural extension office at the county court house."

"Some fruits, such as peaches, darkened or brown very easily. These may be treated with a citric acid water solution, using one-quarter teaspoon of citric acid to 1 quart of water. Or ascorbic acid may be added to the sirup, using one-quarter teaspoon to 1 cup of sirup. Either of the suggested materials may be purchased at drug stores."

"Garden freshness, flavor, and color can be retained only if the vegetables are prepared, packaged, and frozen immediately after gathering. A frozen vegetable is only as good as it was before freezing; its quality is not improved by freezing. "Use vegetables that are just right

Assistant Chief To Teach Firemen

Assistant Chief Howard Reindollar of the Fairfield fire company is scheduled to instruct in the various ways of handling fire equipment at a session Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, Fairfield fire company officials announced today.

All newly elected members of the company are urged to attend the educational meeting.

for eating," Miss Adams says. "In general, treat all vegetables alike, except for time of scalding. Clean and wash them thoroughly, scald in boiling water, chill thoroughly in cold or iced water, drain and package, then freeze. Use moisture-vapor-proof containers of the size the family will use at one meal, because thawed vegetables should not be refrozen."

As a guide to county housewives in home canning of fruits and vegetables, Miss Adams has prepared a time table showing approximate dates when produce supplies should be heaviest and cheapest:

Apples—Summer varieties for canning and applesauce are now in fairly good supply but will be more plentiful during August.

Peaches—will be in good supply about August 15 to early September.

Pears—Heaviest supply during last two weeks in August, with late varieties available about mid-September.

Sweet Corn—Supplies now light but should be heavy in late July, lighter in early August and again heavy during late August and early September.

Snap Beans—Plentiful in August and September.

Lima Beans—Greatest volume in mid-August and later.

Tomatoes—Supply just coming in a little later than usual; heavy from late August through September.

Cabbage—Good supply for early kraut; late harvest will peak in October and early November.

Beets—Early varieties now available; supply abundant for remainder of summer.

Carrots—Best in late October and November.

Cucumbers for pickles—Should be in good supply during most of August.

Cauliflower, Swiss chard, spinach and other greens—not good for canning in hot weather; best to wait until fall crops come in for fresh use.

'SAM' CARBAUGH IS TOPIC FOR WALTON PIECE

The interest of Raymond "Sam" Carbaugh of Biglerville in sports during his long life as a barber is memorialized in an article written by Richard Walton, formerly of Biglerville, in a Harrisburg newspaper.

Walton's story, appearing in a column entitled, "Browsing Around the Sports Field in Harrisburg District," follows:

"The barber shop of America is an institution of learning, mostly in the fields of sports and politics. But the one belonging to Sam Carbaugh in Biglerville appeared to have an edge on others with which we were acquainted."

"The newspapers called him Raymond in the death notices, but to one and all he was just plain Sam. He cut hair for a goodly portion of the residents of upper Adams county and was known throughout the county."

"Schedules—baseball, football, basketball and any others in which his readers had interest—adorned the walls of the modest barber shop in Biglerville. His memory was amazing. Sports and political facts seldom escaped him. If there was a game near Biglerville, you would have saved yourself some energy by not trotting down to the barber shop, for chances are there would be a sign hanging in the door: "Back at 5 o'clock."

"He followed the high school teams at Biglerville religiously and could go back 10 years and tell you what good and bad points a certain player had."

"Sam will be missed in Adams county. He was a willing listener to your troubles and always had good advice to offer. Perhaps he got this from his early training when he studied for the ministry. If you needed a dollar, where could you borrow it? From Sam, of course. He was that way. Anything he had was yours, if he figured you were deserving. Yes, there will be a lot of people in Adams county missing Raymond (Sam) Carbaugh, whose Biglerville barber shop was the gathering place for many folk in the past thirty years."

Take Care of Lawn: When the weather is hot and dry the lawn will benefit from high cutting more than at any other time, and at no time should it be cut under 1½ inches, says A. E. Cooper, Penn State extension agronomist.

HOME OWNERS!

Figure out the cost to you of "under-insurance"

THERE's a pretty high price tag on your home today, too. Yet its greatly increased value can be lost to you overnight—if fire comes and finds you under-insured.

The value of your home, for example, is almost certain to be from 30% to 50% more today than in 1939, depending on where you live.

The increase in value of your furniture, rugs, clothing, jewelry may well represent additional thousands of dollars in assets you are in danger of losing if fire should strike and destroy your home and belongings.

Fire losses every day are awakening home owners to these tremendous increases in property values—too late! Fires—always unexpected—are occurring hourly, bringing serious and needless expense to home owners who have failed to consider the danger of being inadequately insured.

This is an urgent appeal to act now in your own interest—to protect these increased values of yours.

If your property is not adequately insured for its present value, a telephone call today may save you thousands. You will receive prompt, efficient service, and insurance tailor-made to your needs.

APPEALS COURT GRANTS MEMOLO ANOTHER TRIAL

Philadelphia, July 17 (AP)—The third U. S. circuit court of appeals says Attorney John Memolo of Scranton, who almost began serving a prison term for evading payment of some $27,000 in income taxes, is entitled to a new trial.

The court, by a 3 to 2 decision yesterday concurred in action taken by Federal Judge William H. Smith of Newark, N. J., who ordered a new trial for the 60-year-old lawyer after his conviction had been upheld by the highest tribunal in the nation—the U. S. supreme court. That court had declined to review the case.

Judge Smith, who presided at Memolo's first trial on the income tax charge, had earlier refused to grant a new trial. He changed his mind "in the interests of justice" just as Memolo was preparing to don prison garb at Lewisburg (Pa.) federal prison.

Justice Department Opposed

The majority opinion asserted "we are in accord with the view that a trial judge to whose discretion is entrusted the duty of determining whether a new trial should be granted should be free to change his ruling if upon further and more mature deliberation he concludes that justice so requires."

The U. S. department of justice fought the move, insisting that Judge Smith had no authority to grant a new trial because the conviction has been sustained.

Memolo has been free on $10,000 bond pending settlement of the legal dispute.

Judge Albert B. Marks wrote the majority opinion. Judges Herbert F. Goodrich and John J. O'Connell concurred. A minority opinion was written by Senior Judge John Biggs, Jr., and concurred in by Judge Gerald M. F. McLaughlin.

Minority Opinion

Majority Opinion

In his majority opinion, Judge Marks wrote:

"Certainly the administration of the criminal law is not directed toward the retention of a conviction at the cost of a miscarriage of justice, when, in the deliberate and mature opinion of the judge who presided at the trial of the case, the proceedings at the trial or the atmosphere which surrounded it were such as to require correction, it is a shocking suggestion that such correction becomes impossible because the judge's first reaction was different."

Judge Biggs, in the minority opinion, said that Memolo might plead "second jeopardy when the attempt is made to try him a second time, because of the fact that the highest court in the land has upheld his prior conviction and sentence and contend that he cannot be tried again for the same offense."

The department of justice did not comment on whether it would appeal the ruling.

CIO-PAC May Get Democratic Funds

Harrisburg, July 17 (AP)—In a move described by a commonwealth spokesman today as unprecedented, U. S. Senator Joseph P. Guffey and other statewide Democratic candidates authorized the CIO-Political Action committee to receive and disburse funds for the general election campaign.

The authorizations were filed with the state elections bureau by Harry Boyer, president of the CIO-Pennsylvania Industrial union council who is also chairman of the

Guise Clan Plans Reunion Saturday

The second Nicholas Guise reunion will be held in Sheffer park on the Bigville road, three miles north of Gettysburg, Saturday, H. W. Weidner, Seminary avenue, president and historian of the clan, announced today. The first reunion was held in 1941.

The Nicholas Guise family is one of several Guise branches that stemmed from Abraham Guise who came from Germany in the middle of the century preceding the formation of Adams county and settled here. His genealogist has listed eight generations numbering between 1,300 and 1,400 descendants, many of whom still reside in Adams county. Ralph Guise is secretary-treasurer of the clan.

MURPHY QUILTS CONGRESS POST

Washington, July 17 (AP)—Rep. Murphy (D-Pa.) resigns from Congress today to succeed Former Judge Albert W. Johnson of Lewisburg, Pa., on the Pennsylvania middle district court bench.

Murphy is expected to take his oath as a jurist next week. Murphy, once a slate picker in the anthracite mine fields, was elected to Congress four years ago. Previously he served as assistant district attorney of Lackawanna county.

The congressman announced "definite" intentions to resign last night since his work as a member of the joint congressional Pearl Harbor investigating committee has been completed.

The House is scheduled to begin consideration of a bill to raise salaries of all federal judges by $5,000 a year tomorrow. Murphy said he wanted to be out of Congress at least one day before the measure is discussed so there will be no question that he is entitled to the pay hike if the bill passes.

If he remained in Congress at the time the salary bill passed he would not be entitled to the $5,000 more—and would have to serve at the present rate of $10,000 yearly.

CROWDED-QUARTERS

Albuquerque, N. M., (AP)—District Court, taking note of the housing shortage is considering Mrs. Earl Henry Vanderfecht's suit for divorce, decided it would impose "undue hardship" on her husband to vacate the house. The result: Vanderfecht may continue to occupy the sleeping porch, provided he does not annoy his wife.

Pennsylvania CIO-Political Action committee.

Signed by Guffey, seeking a third term in the Senate; Col. John S. Rice, gubernatorial nominee; State Sen. John H. Dent, candidate for lieutenant governor, and Al Schmid, for secretary of internal affairs, the individual authorizations read:

90-DAY LIMIT SET ON NAMING OF NEW JUDGE

By CHARLES B. HOLSTEIN

AP Special Washington Service

Washington, July 17 (AP)—Senator Myers (D-Pa.) says he has no objections to a House-imposed 90-day time limit in which the President may fill a proposed new federal judgeship in Pennsylvania.

Senator Guffey was not available immediately for comment to a reporter.

A bill carrying this provision passed the House yesterday without debate. The Senate must also approve it before it goes to the President.

Although there has been no official explanation from the House judiciary committee of its reason for inserting the unusual requirement, several members said privately it was aimed at preventing long delays such as have occurred before in the filling of judgeships in Pennsylvania.

Lengthy Vacancies

Since 1945, several circuit court vacancies existed there from 12 to 16 months. Recently a vacancy on the middle district Pennsylvania district court went unfilled for 10 months.

In the latter case, Pennsylvania's two Democratic senators, Guffey and Myers, waited nearly that long to make recommendations to the justice department and White House on candidates for the job. The choice, Rep. Murphy (D-Pa.) will probably be sworn in there next week.

The new Pennsylvania position, recommended by the House judiciary committee as an amendment to a Senate-passed bill affecting the Philadelphia district court, is for a temporary roving judge who could sit in any of the three Pennsylvania federal district eastern, at Philadelphia; western, at Pittsburgh or

Pay Trouble Looms For OPA Employees

Washington, July 17 (AP)—Nearly 50 per cent of OPA's 34,000 workers face the prospect of half-pay this week. And there's a possibility the rest may get none when next week's pay day rolls around.

This may precipitate a crisis on whether the agency can hold its staff together while legislation to revive price controls is pending.

Thus far Congress has taken no final action on OPA's appropriation for the fiscal year which began July 1. It may be the week's end, but

Someone To Believe In

By Helen R. Woodward

Chapter 1

One would never think to look at Greer Lawrence that night as she came into the Melody Club followed by her current "court," that a queer, gnawing ache was heavy around her heart. To the casual observer, there could have been no one more gay, more delightfully carefree. She moved across the floor with that ease and flowing grace that had been drawing people to her ever since she was a little girl. Eyes followed her as naturally as butterflies follow the scent of a beautiful flower.

Here was a golden beauty; a golden warmth seemed to flow through her whole personality. Gold-brown eyes, a long, curling, shoulder-length hair—the color of pulled taffy that has been slightly burnt. A generous mouth and a sprinkling of golden freckles on her small, straight nose. And there was a golden note in her laughter.

The two girls and three men who followed her to a reserved table were laughing with her, eager for her pleasure. All except the short, black-haired girl who hated Greer because everybody else loved her. Page Everman could not forgive Greer for becoming engaged to Arnold Vance Hewitt, whom she coveted for her own.

Now Arnie bent over Greer, saying something secret and intimate and Greer flushed with delight. Page caught her bright red lip between her white teeth, looked away quickly—and saw that Jeff Mansfield could not keep his eyes off Greer, either. Page smiled maliciously. Jessie Barlow had brought Jeff along with them several times lately. He was a newspaperman and did not really belong to their crowd. And now Greer was annexing Jeff too.

The other member of the party, Toddy Martin, was in his usual slightly inebriated state and seemed not to have a care in the world. But when the time came, he would pay the bill, and either would all think it quite amusing.

Arnie and Greer danced, his arms holding her slender body close. They were skilled performers and had danced together enough to become really spectacular. They felt eyes upon them and both loved it. "We're show-offs, Arnie!" Greer laughed. "Everybody's looking at us!"

"Let them look!" They've got something to see! That was Arnie. His conceit equalled his great wealth and unimpeachable family tree. At the moment she became aware of the eyes of the man who sat at a secluded corner table, and absurdly her heart skipped a beat. It made her angry that it should always be so. Why should "Rocky" Alverson, owner of the Melody Club, be able to affect her so strangely? There had always been something disturbing in his manner toward Greer. He was the only man by whom she did not feel entirely approved. And consequently she was sometimes possessed with the desire to do something outrageous in his presence—to shock him out of his invulnerability.

What an idea—shocking Rocky Alverson who as a boy had been a bootblack and newsboy in Chicago and who had gained his nickname because of his flint-like determination to let nothing stand in the way of his success! Now the Club Melody was only one of his business enterprises—just a toy with which he played for amusement and some said, an excuse to give former friends employment. It was rare and flowing grace that had been drawing people to her ever since she was a little girl. Eyes followed her as naturally as butterflies follow the scent of a beautiful flower.

Now, as Greer felt that dark amused glance upon her, she threw herself into the rhythm of the dance. Arnie, surprised at her abandon, matched her performance recklessly, so that as they left the floor there was a smattering of applause.

Greer found herself next to Jeff Mansfield and began to play him with questions about his profession. Jeff had gained something of a reputation as a commentator during the war, but Greer was not really interested. She only felt that she must talk, be gay—anything to still that ache in her heart—to blot out the memory of her father's white queerly agonized face at the dinner table.

"I should have stayed with him tonight," she thought, over and over. "I shouldn't have left him alone. There's something troubling him, making him miserable. Perhaps I could have diverted his thoughts!"

But to Jeff she said, "I think I'd like to be a newspaper woman. It must be such an exciting life!"

Jeff laughed. "You'd never stand the gaff—"

"I would too! Anyway, promise if I ever need a job you'll try to get me on your paper."

"That's a safe enough promise. I guess," he smiled.

Arnie hovered over her, his arm frankly around her shoulders. The confusion increased, the smoke was like a thick veil of fog, making your eyes ache, your head reel. Greer suddenly hated it all, with a desperate kind of loathing.

A girl was singing in a high, somewhat nasal voice. "Rotten!" Arnie spat out as she finished. "The gal's really horrible. Wonder where Burry Barton dug her up?" Suddenly his eyes lighted up. "Tell you what, Greer! Why don't you sing for the customers? Go on, Baby—do it the way it should be done!"

"Don't be silly, Arnie!"

But they were all joining in, begging her. Greer had sung all her life, had had the best teachers simply for her own pleasure and that of her friends. Everyone in the crowd knew the low, elusive quality of her haunting songs.

"Bet you ten bucks you won't!" Arnie said finally, and Greer rose at once.

"The men's fightin' words, brother!"

TAFT REFUSES TO BUDGE AND OPA DEADLOCKS

By FRANCIS M. LEMAY

Washington, July 17 (AP)—Deadlock threat plagued administration efforts to strike a bargain on OPA today.

President Truman was reported willing to sign the Senate's revival bill provided Congress restores price ceilings on meat, eggs, butter and other foods.

But Senator Taft (R-Ohio), who bore the brunt of Mr. Truman's criticism in the previous OPA veto, told a reporter he is unwilling to budge an inch on the new bill which the president has said "couldn't be any worse."

"Of course the president would sign the bill if we put such things as meat, eggs and butter back under controls," Taft said. "I have no desire to compromise the bill. If the president wants to veto it, then let him veto it."

To which Chairman Spence (D-Ky.) of the House Banking committee replied: "If the Senate stands pat we will have no OPA. They have got to give in if we are going to have any price controls."

Will Cut Funds

This was the situation as the 14-member Senate-house conference committee, of which Taft and Spence are members, began its compromise task.

Meanwhile, just in case OPA is revived, the Senate voted to cut its operating funds by $50,000,000 and slapped a ban on use of any of the money for price control "propaganda." Senator Ball (R-Minn.) said the "propaganda" rider was inserted because OPA officials had used agency funds to "put the heat on Congress."

The House voted OPA $100,000,000. The Senate trimmed the bill to $56,000,000.

House members of the conference committee were expected to propose to the Senate members today that they cut from the revival bill all amendments banning future price ceilings on meat, poultry, eggs, butter, cheese, milk or other dairy products, cottonseed, soybeans, grain, livestock or poultry feed and tobacco; also petroleum, so long as supply meets domestic demand.

Word was circulated on Capitol Hill, however, that Mr. Truman had told Democratic leaders that if the food exemption amendments were stricken he would sign the Senate bill, notwithstanding any other objections. The White House itself was silent.

The amendment-heavy Senate bill went to conference after the House by a 211 to 64 vote refused yesterday to accept it. This was a procedural victory for the administration since the conference route provides another effort to write a bill more to the president's liking.

CHURCHES SEEK BAN ON SUNDAY SALES IN CLUBS

Harrisburg, July 17 (P)—The federated legislative committee of Pennsylvania—an organization of church groups—passed demands today for strengthening of the liquor and local option laws by the 1947 legislature.

It also urged removal of special privileges it said are granted social clubs, calling for a ban on Sunday liquor sales in clubs, an increase in the price of club liquor licenses and inclusion of clubs in the quota law fixing the number of licenses at one for each 1,000 population.

The committee asked revision of the law to permit a vote by wards in cities and on a county-wide basis in counties of the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th classes. A municipality is now the unit for such a vote.

Other changes proposed in the local option law would prohibit state liquor stores and operations of beer distributors in territory that has been voted dry.

Telegrams were sent yesterday to President Truman and U. S. Secretary of Agriculture, Clinton P. Anderson, protesting use of grain in alcohol beverages.

The Rev. John Yates, chairman of a Lord's day committee, said in a report that "this first peacetime summer has brought with it great disregard for the sanctity of Lord's day. At the same time we find friends of the Sabbath more alert to desecrations and quite willing to work and give towards its protection."

HALF OF VETS FAIL TO TAKE JOBLESS PAY

Harrisburg, July 17 (P)—Less than half of Pennsylvania's World War II veterans have shared in the $114,000,000 paid out as jobless benefits to ex-servicemen since 1944 and only 173,000 are drawing checks now, it was learned today.

The state Bureau of Unemployment Compensation said that first claims and payments since September 4, 1944, totaled 496,203 up to July 6 although nearly 1,100,000 veterans have returned from service.

All ex-servicemen with honorable discharges and at least 90 days' service since September 16, 1940, who are able and available for work are entitled under the Federal Servicemen's Readjustment Law to benefits ranging up to $20 a week for 52 weeks.

Never Had Jobs
"Considering the fact that approximately half the veterans never had a job before the war, it is interesting to note that more than half of those eligible for compensation under the law have never applied nor drawn benefits," a bureau spokesman asserted.

Although veterans are entitled to receive as much as $1,040 he said payments to individuals have averaged only slightly more than $220, indicating that veterans have been going to work after drawing benefits for an average of 10 weeks.

The U. S. Employment Service, which acts as agent for veterans claims for the Unemployment Compensation Bureau, reported its most recent survey showed 250,000 veterans unemployed in Pennsylvania although there were only 173,000 readjustment allowances in the week ending July 4.

Some Claims Rejected
This was a decrease from the 221,000 in the week ending June 20. The USES also reported 3,670 claims of veterans were rejected during June because they had refused suitable work, voluntarily quit their jobs or for other reasons.

The USES estimated 700,000 Pennsylvania veterans are employed and another 50,000 are attending school or are otherwise occupied. In addition, approximately 1,300 were receiving allowances under the G.I. Bill of Rights as self-employed persons—benefits representing the differences between net earnings and $100 a month.

To Open Probe Of Pennsy Train Wreck

Harrisburg, July 17 (P)—A three-way probe of the wreck of the Broadway Limited near Lewistown Saturday night will open in Altoona this evening, with a Public Utility Commission engineer participating.

Howard A. Weaver, engineer of the PUC's bureau of transportation, said he would attend a conference among railroad officials and officials of the Interstate Commerce Commission on the accident which injured 23 persons.

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg—The regular monthly afternoon of games was held at the home of Miss Louise Sebald, South Seton avenue, Thursday afternoon. There were five tables of players present. Mrs. Valerie Ovelman won first in 500 and Mrs. Morris Zentz won first in bingo, while Miss Ann Codori won the draw prize.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hardshaw, Philadelphia, were week-end visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Rodgers, North Seton avenue.

Mrs. Gordon Proff and sons, Carroll and Jack, Baltimore, were recent visitors of Mrs. Proff's sister, Mrs. Guy Topper and family, West Main street.

George Reynolds, Baltimore, spent the week-end with his mother, Mrs. Mollie Reynolds, Harner apartments.

W. T. 3/c Joseph E. Rodgers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Rodgers, North Seton avenue, has received his discharge from the U. S. Navy after serving one and one-half years on the carrier Intrepid, in the South Pacific. Two brothers of Joseph, William and Eugene T., were recently discharged from the navy. A sister, Lorraine, a Cadet Nurse at St. Joseph's hospital, Baltimore, spent 3 weeks vacation with her parents.

This is the first time in five years Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers have had their four children home at the same time.

Mrs. Mary C. Herring has sold to Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Beegle, West Main St., Emmitsburg, a property of about 36 acres and improvements located along the Gettysburg-Emmitsburg road, consideration being around $6,500.

Mrs. Margaret M. Rosenwald, Mondorff apartments, center square, was granted an absolute divorce from Albert H. Rosenwald, Pocomoke City. She was given custody of three children and he was ordered to pay $25.00 a week for their support. The decree was signed Tuesday in Equity Court, Frederick, by Associate Judge Patrick M. Schnauffer.

Mrs. A. M. Wasilifsky, president of the Emmitsburg Public Library, has announced beginning this week the library room will be open Wednesday evenings instead of Tuesday evenings. Among the new books in the library is "Solo in Tom Towns" by Fowler. This is a book that is of special interest to men.

Seventeen young people from the Elias Lutheran church together with some of their friends went to Braddock Heights Thursday evening to attend a Luther League District outing and party.

AUSTIN READY ON FIRM STAND

Washington, July 17 (P)—Senator Austin (R-Vt) today joined Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) in declaring that the United States will not be "coerced" into international decisions.

"The sooner the world learns that, the better," added Austin, who has been named by President Truman to represent this country on the United Nations Security Council.

Thus Austin forecast the same sort of firm United States stand in the U. N. council that Vandenberg said Secretary of State Byrnes took at the Paris Foreign Ministers' conference.

The Vermont Senator's declaration came in approving what he called the "frankness" of Vandenberg's appraisal of the accomplishments and failures of the Big Four meeting.

Calls For "Friendship"
Noting that there was "appalling disagreement" among the major powers over the immediate and long-range future of Germany, Vandenberg called on Russia to help replace with dependable friendship the distrust and suspicion he said now exist between Washington and Moscow.

The Michigan Senator added in a formal report to his colleagues yesterday that the Soviets must learn that the Americans "cannot be driven, coerced or pressured" into decisions and "will not bargain in human rights and fundamental liberties anywhere on earth."

Endorsing this, Austin told a reporter he believes a candid discussion of the difficulties the American delegation encountered in Paris will help solidify public opinion.

Notice To The World
"I think the public announcement that it is not our purpose to yield to coercion is very important," he said. "The sooner the world understands that, the better."

LIONS PREPARE YEAR'S PROGRAM AT CONVENTION

Philadelphia, July 17 (P)—The 12,000 delegates to the 29th annual Lions International convention assembled today to devise a 1946-47 program for the organization's 279,116 members in North, Central and South America and Asia.

Delegates, from every state, three U. S. territories and 17 foreign countries, represent 5,400 Lions clubs. An estimated 100,000 Philadelphians lined downtown streets last night as a two-hour parade, led by high-stepping drum majorettes and colorful bands and floats, passed in review.

The parade climaxed opening of the Lions' four-day convention here, keyed on the theme—world peace through the United Nations—by International President Dr. Ramiro Collazo of Havana, Cuba.

Crown Cotton Queen
Shortly after midnight, at the Lions gala cotton states jubilee, Miss Edna Verdia of McComb Miss., was named "Queen of Cotton."

Earlier, a quartet representing the Minneapolis (Minn.) Lions club won the $400 first prize in singing competition, Spokane, Wash., took the $300 second prize, with Pittsburgh, Pa., copping the third place honors worth $200.

In the parade of uniformed delegates, preceding the opening business session, Florida's delegation won the $150 first prize. The group, dressed as Seminole Indians, was led by 20-year-old Julie Mastry of St. Petersburg.

Convention officials announced elections for new International officers would be held Friday with Clifford C. Pierce of Memphis, Tenn.—present first vice president—slated to succeed Collazo.

Vice-presidents "move up traditionally," convention headquarters said.

Contest For 3rd Vice
The only contest is expected in the race for the third vice-presidency which will be vacated by Dr. Eugene S. Briggs, president of Phillips university, Enid, Okla. Briggs is slated to move up to second vice-president.

E. B. Brant of St. Petersburg, Fla.; L. Russell McKee, mayor of Joplin, Mo.; W. Russell Porter, New Bedford, Mass.; Thomas N. Fowler, Seattle, Wash.; Walter C. Foster, Queenstown, Ontario, Canada; and Harold P. Nutter, Camden, N. J., are seeking the third vice-presidency post, convention headquarters announced.

"But he is making the unquestioned assumption that we are of necessity lined up in the Western Bloc, with the lines drawn between Eastern and Western Europe," Pepper said. "Our position ought to be that of arbiter, not a participant in the age old struggle between Great Britain and Russia for power."

Sons Of Vets Get Painting Of Gettysburg

The charge made by the First Minnesota regiment at Gettysburg was commemorated Tuesday, July 2, 83 years and one hour after its start, in the Minneapolis armory, Minneapolis, Minn., at a meeting of the department of Minnesota, Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, according to The Minneapolis Tribune.

William J. Hiland, St. Paul, patriotic instructor of the organization, presented a reproduction of the Josiah R. King painting of the regiment in the line at Gettysburg, to Bert N. Lennan, president of the 135th Infantry Veterans association. The 135th Infantry is the present-day counterpart of the Civil War regiment.

Hiland, as a boy, watched King, a St. Paul artist who served in the regiment, paint the picture after the war. It depicted King's conception of the way the line looked at 7 p. m., July 2, 1863.

The reproduction was donated by Totton Hefflinger, whose grandfather, Maj. Charles B. Hefflinger, was in command of the regiment's D company and was in the charge at Gettysburg. The painting was unveiled by Hefflinger's 10-year-old son, Chris.

World War II veterans of the 135th infantry, who took part in the charge at Hill 609 in Africa, attended the presentation.
